ULI Kentucky is a District Council of the non-profit, non-partisan Urban Land Institute based in Washington, D.C. ULI's primary focus is on research and education related to its mission of providing leadership in the responsible use of land and in creating and sustaining thriving communities worldwide. As the preeminent, multidisciplinary real estate forum, ULI facilitates the open exchange of ideas, information and experience among local, national and international industry leaders and policy makers dedicated to creating better places. ULI Kentucky is an unparalleled forum that combines access to local industry and government leaders with the resources of the Urban Land Institute.

ULI KENTUCKY PROGRAMS

ULI is well known for its high quality and objective programming. As the state ULI District Council, no other organization in the Kentucky area provides the depth of access to projects, developments, resources and information that ULI Kentucky offers.

Our most popular annual events include Emerging Trends, Real Deals and Insider Tours. We have challenged ourselves to think about complex projects facing our region. ULI Kentucky values its sponsors and members by hosting intimate member-only CEO Coffees, and Happy Hours.

In the coming year, ULI Kentucky will continue to offer events that are timely, of keen interest to industry professionals, and that further our mission of bringing industry and government leaders together to think, explore and learn about what it takes to create a sustainable and thriving Kentucky region.
