

Mentee Application

What

The mentorship program is designed to connect young women members with established real estate professionals and provide ULI members the opportunity to get to know the future women leaders in the industry. It aims to provide opportunities for both participants and mentors to grow by sharing their knowledge and experiences in an atmosphere of confidentiality, trust and respect.

How

To be considered for participation, please make sure to 1) update your ULI member profile with your biography and profile information, or for application submitted via email, attach a copy of your resume before 2) submitting your statement of interest for the program in the form below.

Cost of participation by mentee: $125 per year, upon selection to the program.

Why

The program provides a year-long opportunity to share and discuss issues facing real estate professionals in a small format. Each group will be led by a mentor and have 2-3 mentees. Individuals are placed in groups with great care in an effort to make sure that none are direct competitors or from the same company. This group structure allows for candid discussions and minimizes confidentiality issues.
