

MICHAEL CARSON

Senior Vice President & Chief Technology Officer | The Habitat Company

As Senior Vice President and Chief Technology Officer for The Habitat Company, Michael Carson oversees the design, implementation, support and supervision of all computer systems and information technology. Michael also maintains the property management software and works closely with regional teams to support their operational goals. In his role, Michael continues to explore new innovations that streamline our processes and allow The Habitat Company to provide greater services and conveniences for our customers.

Michael serves on several technology committees including Queen of Angels School in Chicago, sharing his passion for imaginative solutions to everyday problems.

He has a Bachelor of Science from DeVry Institute of Technology and over thirty years' experience through practical application.