

Bill Senne
Founder + CEO
Senco Properties

Bill Senne, Founder and CEO of Senco Properties, is known for the quality of his neighborhood knowledge, market insights, and personal service. A graduate of the University of Illinois at Chicago, Bill founded Senco in 1993 and has since then enjoyed over 30 years of building, managing, leasing, and selling properties both commercial and residential throughout the Chicagoland area.

Today, Bill boasts a track record that includes 900,000 SF of residential conversions and over 2.5 million SF of total development. He plays a dominant role in the ongoing development of several notable Chicago neighborhoods and has earned a number of accolades for the quality and sustainability of his work. He was also the owner of Property Consultants, now PCR Group, a residential real estate firm recently acquired by Compass Real Estate.

Bill lives with his fiancée in Chicago's Bucktown neighborhood, has two wonderful daughters, and enjoys an early morning coffee on his way home from yoga.
