

Yoga

Rebecca discovered her love of both practicing and teaching yoga in college several years ago. Once she moved to the DC area, she committed to teaching yoga full-time all around the DMV. Rebecca is particularly inspired by watching her clients progress, make impactful changes in their lives, and become healthier versions of themselves. She believes the practice is for everyone and that no one is left behind.