Design for Purpose and Synergy

Chee Huang is a firm believer in purpose-driven architecture that synergises economic, environmental and social dynamics, to bring out positive impact and delight to the everyday lives. Some of these key pursuits include Singapore Sports Hub, Our Tampines Hub, Bukit Canberra in Sembawang and Punggol Regional Sports Centre pioneering models of complex integrated community, sports and lifestyle hubs in Singapore. Chee Huang also champions numerous corporate social responsibility initiatives such as Project Bus Stop, Goodlife! Makan – an elderly activity centre for stay-alone seniors and co-workplace for youth charity, Heartware Network.

A strong advocate in progressive architectural profession, Chee Huang led the fraternity as the President of the Singapore Institute of Architects from 2018 to 2020, to drive sustainable design, ethical and enterprising practices grounded in innovative and social causes. He partakes in the larger discourse of the built environment in numerous design advisory panels and committees for various agencies and institutions.
