

Elizabeth Fuller

Elizabeth Laws Fuller is the Head of Growth for WeWork Southeast Asia.

Based in Singapore, Elizabeth is responsible for business development and sales across six markets including Singapore, Philippines, Vietnam, Thailand, Indonesia, and Malaysia. She also oversees a diversity of functions including real estate advisory, broker partnerships, and growth operations.

In her prior role as Real Estate Advisory Director for the Pacific region, her expertise lies in structuring tailored solutions for large enterprises with evolving space and workforce needs, programming and go-to-market strategies for WeWork's real estate portfolio.

In addition to her skills and market experience, Elizabeth is also one of the co-founders of WeWork's "Women of Pacific" initiative with a strong commitment and passion to advance a culture of female allyship.

A seasoned executive with over 17 years of experience, Elizabeth has worked in real estate finance, consulting, and investments across four continents covering commercial, hospitality, residential, and development roles, including working at CBRE in both the USA and Singapore.

Elizabeth holds an SB in Economics from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (USA) and an MBA in international business from IESE Business School (Spain). She also studied business and economics at China-Europe International Business School (CEIBS) in Shanghai and Cambridge University (UK).
