

Rahul Mittal

Rahul has more than twenty years of global consulting experience in master planning, urban design, and landscape architecture. He has worked on major projects across USA, India, China, Japan and multiple countries in Southeast Asia and the Middle East.

His projects include urban infill and redevelopments, business and industrial parks, transit oriented and mixed-use developments, redevelopment of waterfronts, new town planning, golf course and resort developments, airport cities.

In addition to his consulting work Rahul speaks regularly at real estate related conferences in the region and teaches in the Master of Urban Planning program at the National University of Singapore.