

Nikki Greenberg Introduction

Nikki Greenberg is a world-leading futurist focused on preparing organizations for a tech-enabled future. She helps leaders reimagine their businesses and spaces to bring them into alignment with the increasingly digitized way that people live, work and communicate today. Though she started her career as an architect for Lend Lease, she has held leadership positions with Fortune 500 companies and most recently served as the Head of Technology Strategy at QIC, an Australian investment manager with a $70 Billion portfolio of assets under management. She is the founder and global ambassador of Women in PropTech and former three-term co-chair of the Technology & Innovation Council for ULI in New York City.

Holding master's degrees in both Architecture and Commerce, Nikki brings a balance between pushing possibilities and practicality. Nikki is a highly regarded thought leader, frequent speaker at leading global conferences, commentator in the press, and recipient of numerous international awards.
