LAUREN HARKEY / Owner, Hodges Taylor

Lauren Harkey, a Charlotte native, is the Owner of Hodges Taylor, founded in 1980, an art consulting firm that connects companies and individuals with artwork for their spaces. As Owner, Lauren serves as the primary client contact, steering ideation, leading projects, and crafting art experiences that spark conversation for clients both locally and nationally.

With a B.A. in Art History and Psychology, and a law degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, as well as a Masters of Letters in Modern and Contemporary Art, Lauren brings a unique blend of expertise to art consultancy.

Actively engaged in the Charlotte arts scene, Lauren is a member, and past chair, of the Craft, Design, + Fashion Collections Board of the Mint Museum. Additionally, Lauren serves as a trustee and Collections Committee member of the Mint Museum. She also is a member, and past chair, of the City of Charlotte's Public Art Commission.
