

How to Get Involved with ULI St. Louis

Now more than ever.
Find it at ULI.

The Urban Land Institute (ULI) is a global, member-driven organization dedicated to responsible land use and sustainable communities. ULI St. Louis, the local district council, connects professionals across real estate and development sectors through networking and educational programs. Getting involved with ULI St. Louis enhances your professional growth and strengthens your impact on the local community.

JOIN A COMMITTEE

Get involved with ULI St. Louis to shape real estate conversations locally and nationally. Committees offer opportunities to lead, collaborate, and address local challenges through TAPs, speaking roles, and focused programming for Young Leaders, Women, and Developers of Color. Committees provide leadership and collaboration opportunities while shaping critical conversations that influence the community.

ATTEND EVENTS

ULI St. Louis hosts dynamic events featuring top industry leaders, exclusive tours, panel discussions, and hands-on workshops. Topics include pressing real estate issues such as attainable housing, downtown revitalization, and emerging market trends. Stay ahead of industry shifts and expand your professional network. Check out upcoming events on our events page.

VOLUNTEER FOR URBANPLAN

UrbanPlan is an immersive, classroom-based program that teaches participants about the economic and social forces shaping real estate development. Help students and community members explore real estate development through ULI's interactive UrbanPlan program. Volunteers complete a one-time training and support at least two classroom sessions a year. To get involved, email Kaitlyn Kettelkamp at kaitlyn.kettelkamp@uli.org.

EXPLORE LEADERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

ULI offers leadership roles at both local and national levels. Lead locally through ULI St. Louis committees or contribute nationally to shape the future of real estate. Build connections, share expertise, and make an impact. Learn more at stlouis.uli.org

BECOME A MEMBER

ULI members gain access to exclusive research, best practices, events, and professional connections worldwide. To join, visit the ULI membership page or contact the Membership Department at 1-800-321-5011.

TAKE A COURSE

ULI St. Louis offers educational programs designed to advance your career:

- Real Estate Diversity Initiative (REDI): A 14-module course for women and developers of color seeking to grow in real estate.
