Schroders Capital

Andrew Moore is Head of Asia Pacific Real Estate at Schroders Capital.

He was previously Chief Executive of Pamfleet, which he co-founded in 2000 and led through its integration with Schroders in 2020. At Pamfleet, he guided the business in originating, co-investing and asset managing value-add real estate investments, with notable transactions in Hong Kong, Singapore and Shanghai.

Andrew began his career in real estate in London in 1987 as a graduate with Edward Erdman Chartered Surveyors, moving to Nelson Bakewell the following year. He moved to Asia with Jones Lang Wootton (now JLL) in 1993, taking on responsibility for The Peninsula Hong Kong's extension project and Jardine's new development in Ho Chi Minh City. Between 1995 and 2000 Andrew worked at Jardine Fleming as portfolio manager of a pan-Asian real estate fund.

He holds a Bachelors (Honours) degree in Urban Land Administration and a Masters degree with Distinction in International Real Estate. Andrew is a member of the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors (RICS), the Hong Kong Institute of Surveyors, the Manager Advisory Council of the Asian Association for Investors in Non-listed Real Estate Vehicles (ANREV) and the Urban Land Institute's Asia Pacific Capital Markets Council.
