

Christine Lam is a Global Design Principal at Aedas, with over 26 years of experience delivering compelling and contextually rich architecture across Hong Kong, Asia, the Middle East, and Europe. Known for her perceptive and engaging design approach, Christine has led a wide spectrum of projects including mixed-use developments, retail, hospitality, office, residential, and infrastructure.

Her portfolio includes major retail projects such as The Ellinikon Commercial Hub in Athens, Immersive Tower by DIFC and the MAF City Centre Mirdif Redevelopment in Dubai, Heartland 66 in Wuhan, and Olympia 66 in Dalian. Christine's work consistently reflects a deep sensitivity to the social and cultural nuances of the communities she designs for.

Her contributions to the industry have earned widespread recognition, including the Perspective 40 Under 40 Award and selection among 19 Women Architects by Architizer Journal.