

Estelle Chan joined Henderson Land as a Project Manager shortly after the company acquired prime land in Hong Kong for the development of the iconic The Henderson project, which was intended as a gift to the city. Following the project's completion in 2025, she assumed the role of Head of Brand, where she oversaw the design and curation of various special projects and campaigns for the company.

Estelle had a strong passion for construction materials and innovative technologies in their application. Her success stemmed from her ability to bring together diverse individuals and specialists to work towards a shared objective, enabling her to see tangible projects come to life and drive them to completion.
