

Kenny Lam
Co-Chairman and Co-Founder, KainoQ Capital
Board Member, Two Sigma Asia

Kenny is Co-Chairman and Co-Founder of KainoQ Capital, a private investment firm seeding founders of innovations in Asia. He co-founded KainoQ Capital with two veteran investors and scientists from Two Sigma and Goldman Sachs.

Kenny is also currently a Board Member of Two Sigma Asia. He was formerly Two Sigma Asia's CEO and Chairman of Two Sigma China. Two Sigma is one of world's largest hedge funds. Two Sigma China is the second largest global hedge fund in China.

Earlier in his career, Kenny was Global Partner of McKinsey & Company and a co-leader of its Asia Financial Institutional Practice. Kenny was one of the fastest rising partners ever of McKinsey, elected as a global partner six years from his start as an analyst.

Kenny has a few public roles. He is a Member of the Board of Advisors of The Wharton School, The School's most senior board and was formerly Chairman of the Executive Board of the Wharton School in Asia. He is Vice-Chairman and Trustee of the Asia Pacific Council of The Nature Conservancy. He is Co-Founder and Co-Chairman of Melo Foundation, one of the largest youth empowerment NGOs in Asia.

Kenny graduated with a finance degree from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania and a law degree from Oxford University. He was the first ever Chinese to be awarded the Joseph Wharton Scholarship. He is a best-selling published author in China with his recent book "Choices" reaching No.4 in e-book sales in China in 2023.