URBANPLAN

UrbanPlan is a 15 class hour project-based learning curriculum unit developed for two student populations: 1) high school juniors and seniors in economics and government classes; and 2) university graduate students in land use focused disciplines: city planning, MBA real estate, architecture, and law.

Student development teams respond to an RFP to redevelop a 5 ½ block site from a mythical city.

Through the process, they discover the dynamic fundamental challenges of development: how the forces of our market economy clash and collaborate with the forces of our representative democracy to create the built environment.

More ULI members, including trustees, governors and product council members, participate in UrbanPlan than any other national or local ULI program.

In October 2010, The George Lucas Educational Foundation (GLEF) selected UrbanPlan as one of only 20 programs running in the United States – grades k through 12 – for their “What Works in Education” series. GLEF’s mission is to create awareness of innovative and effective curricula and program models in kindergarten through twelfth grade. Their video about UrbanPlan: Developing Minds can be downloaded from iTunes University.

OUR STORY

ULI Atlanta is a District Council of the Urban Land Institute. We are one of the largest ULI District Councils world-wide, with over 1,400 members, which includes Georgia, Alabama and Eastern Tennessee.

We bring together leaders from across the fields of real estate and land use policy to exchange best practices and serve community needs. We share knowledge through education, applied research, publishing, electronic media, events and programs, including our Center for Leadership & UrbanPlan programs.

Founded in 1936, ULI has grown to over 38,000 members worldwide, representing the entire spectrum of land use and real estate development disciplines working in private enterprise and public service.

ULI does not lobby nor act as an advocate of any single industry. We examine land use issues, impartially report findings, and convene forums to find solutions to complex land use problems, collaborating with industry and stakeholder groups worldwide.

The generosity and commitment of ULI Atlanta's members and sponsors enable us to sustain and grow UrbanPlan. Thanks to these contributions, we are able to provide all materials and training free of charge to our teachers, students, and volunteers.

CENTER FOR LEADERSHIP

The mission of the Center for Leadership is to cultivate leadership and life-strategy skills by teaching emerging leaders in the real estate and land use industries how the Atlanta region gets built.

Participants of this program are individuals working in the real estate industry and related field who are emerging leaders slated for future leadership roles. They must have a minimum of 7 years of related real estate experience, be committed to community service and civic engagement and have a vision for the future of the Georgia Region.

The program is organized around nine full-day seminars consisting of presentations, panel discussions, property tours, small group activities. Guest speakers have included: Governor Roy Barnes, Senator Johnny Isakson, former State Attorney General Sam Olens, former Mayor Shirley Franklin, and Andrew Jackson Young Jr.

During the course of the nine-month program, participants will have an opportunity to provide leadership on a critical Atlanta regional issue through a mini Technical Assistance Panel (mTAP). Working in teams, participants will be responsible for sharing their expertise and advice to develop recommendations for a sponsor organization.
