

Althea Broughton is a partner in and co-chair of Arnall Golden Gregory's Real Estate Practice. Ms. Broughton represents developers, government agencies and tax credit investors in affordable housing and mixed-income development transactions, mixed-use and urban redevelopment transactions, transactions involving the use of public/private partnerships, and conventional real estate transactions. Through her work, Ms. Broughton has played a critical role in the creation or preservation of tens of thousands of units of affordable housing.

Ms. Broughton is active in her community and recently served as the Chair of the Board of Trustees for Literacy Action, Inc., a nonprofit which addresses adult low literacy. She is also on the Board of Directors for the Atlanta Beltline Partnership and the Atlanta Community Food Bank. She is a graduate of the 2013 class of Leadership Atlanta, and an active member of the East Point/College Park Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc.

Recently, Ms. Broughton has been recognized as a 2019 Atlanta Business Chronicle Woman Who Means Business, a Georgia Super Lawyer in the area of Real Estate, a 2018 Law and Justice Woman of the Year (Law and Justice Awards), the 2018 Most Effective Deal Maker (Fulton County Daily Report/ Georgia Legal Awards) and a 2018 and 2019 Atlanta Tribune Women of Influence. She is also a recipient of the national 2014 CREW Network Impact Award for Economic and Community Improvement for her work on the National Center for Civil and Human Rights.

Ms. Broughton received her J.D. from the University of Virginia, where she was a Hardy Cross Dillard Scholar, and is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Emory University. Ms. Broughton serves on the Governing Committee for the American Bar Association Forum for Affordable Housing and Community Development Law. Ms. Broughton is also a fellow in the American College of Real Estate Lawyers, an organization which recognizes national preeminence in the practice of real estate law.