

Bryn Garrett
Principal
Ehrlich Yanai Rhee
Chaney Architects

Since joining Ehrlich Yanai Rhee Chaney Architects in 2012, Bryn Garrett has been involved with a broad range of the firm's portfolio, from high-end residential and hospitality, to commercial, institutional and creative office. Having equal experience in many aspects of the practice gives him a unique perspective on a project's context, materiality and environmental impact. Bryn was elevated to Principal in 2021 and is heading EYRC's San Francisco studio, which opened in 2017. More recently, Bryn has led EYRC's firm-wide sustainability initiatives to bolster the wellness and net zero strategies used during the design process. Working with AIA COTE and sustainability consultants, Bryn has worked to bring clear wellness commitments to the forefront of EYRC's design practice through a comprehensive sustainability action plan.
