Vice President of Development Skanska

Megan Moloughney is Vice President of Development for the Los Angeles region of Skanska USA Commercial Development, which delivers customer-focused, highly sustainable office, mixed-use and multi-family properties across the United States. With more than 20 years of experience in commercial real estate management and development, Megan is responsible for guiding her project teams through the execution of Skanska Commercial Development's regional strategy. This is not limited to conceptual design, permitting, pre-construction and construction activities, leasing, operations and recapitalization. Most recently, Megan worked as the Senior Development Manager for The Ratkovich Company overseeing recapitalization of assets, redevelopment, leasing, as well as entitlements for a 790-unit residential project. Megan is a member of the Urban Land Institute, ICSC, Los Angeles County Museum of Art and the Metropolitan Museum of Art. She currently serves an executive board member of the Alhambra Chamber of Commerce as well as the Sister Stella Foundation. In 2018 Megan was recognized BisNow's SoCal Power Women. Moloughney graduated with a bachelor's degree in art history from the University of Washington.
