

Alexandra Hack

Alexandra Hack is Principal of Cedar Street Partners LLC and is responsible for overseeing all aspects of entitlement, financing and development process for projects in the company's pipeline. She has over 9 years of experience in the real estate finance and development industry in Los Angeles and New York. Currently, she is entitling the first Builders Remedy project in the City of La Cañada Flintridge, comprised of an 80-unit, 120,300 sf mixed use development.

In her prior role, Alex served as Investment Manager at AIG Investments, where she was responsible for managing a $5.5 billion commercial real estate loan portfolio comprised of commercial real estate assets in Southern California, New York, and Washington DC.

Prior to AIG, Alex was Junior Development Officer at The Continuum Company in New York, which to date has developed more than 14 million square feet totaling over $7 billion. She worked directly with CEO Ian Bruce Eichner in structuring the financing behind all development projects in the company's pipeline, including Madison Square Park Tower, a 65-story, 232,000 SF luxury condominium development project located in the Flatiron district of Manhattan.
