

With a passion to win, Brian is a go-to leader whose charisma leads project teams to success. Well-known for high-profile projects valued at over $100 million, Brian enjoys the challenge and intensity that comes with guiding large teams.

Brian's technical background, managerial skills, and a proactive attitude are highly valued and respected by clients and industry peers. His knowledge of multi-phased mega-projects gives him an exceptional understanding of unique project types and ensures that the proper resources are in place at every step.

Taking pride in each project he touches, Brian believes that sharing his passion with future generations ensures that they too will find a path to enjoying the industry and continue in his footsteps.