

For over 25 years, Tammy has worked on some of AC Martin's most significant projects. She is currently the Project Executive for the Resources Building Renovation in Sacramento and the Principal in Charge/Lead Designer for the Garden Grove Civic Center. Her diverse body of work includes the New Natural Resources Headquarters, the Madera County Courthouse, the Hollenbeck Police Station, and the Joe Serna Jr. Cal/EPA Headquarters. She is experienced in all aspects of design and construction, with a particular skill in leading major projects in a collaborative team environment. She was the Project Director and Senior Designer for the Wilshire Grand Redevelopment Project, where she was responsible for managing the efforts of the design team, liaising with the Owner both here and abroad, and working closely with the General Contractor and a myriad of Trade Partners. Tammy received her Bachelor of Architecture degree from the University of Southern California. She is a DBIA Certified Professional, a LEED Accredited Professional and was a former member of the USC Architectural Guild Board, where she was honored with the Outstanding Service Award.
