

Danielle Foley is the founder of PDB Collaborative, a consulting agency specializing in hospitality and retail development. With over 10 years of experience managing projects as a contractor, architect, engineer, tenant, and developer representative, Danielle has developed a unique perspective on project management. In the past three years, PDB Collaborative has become an invaluable and resourceful liaison, helping to drive projects from initial concept to final completion.