TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE PANELS

ULI Oreon's TAP program offers short-term, expert-driven guidance to help communities tackle specific land use or development challenges. Through a focused 1–2 day engagement, a panel of industry professionals provides practical, market-based recommendations tailored to your goals. TAPs can increase visibility, build local capacity, and help attract the right development partners—whether the process is public or private.

URBANPLAN

UrbanPlan is a hands-on, team-based workshop where participants take on the roles of developers, city officials, and community stakeholders to tackle a real-world redevelopment challenge. Offered by ULI, the program builds understanding of the complex trade-offs and choices involved in land use decisions.
